

A woman with long, wavy hair, wearing a wide-brimmed straw hat and a light-colored top, is seen from behind, walking down a narrow, cobblestone street in a European city. The street is lined with historic buildings featuring arched windows and doorways. In the distance, a large, prominent dome with a spire is visible, likely a cathedral or church. The scene is bathed in warm, golden light, suggesting late afternoon or early morning. The overall atmosphere is one of travel and exploration.
